

Sunnie Anand

ART ADVISOR · CURATOR · ARTIST · SLOW FASHION · LOS ANGELES

Sunnie Anand is a rare crossover: a working artist with 20 years of studio practice, a self-taught curator who has logged 80+ museums across 4 continents, a former corporate sustainability operator who built landfill and waste diversion systems at global scale, and a slow fashion practitioner with a supernatural eye for materials. Each discipline informs the others — producing an advisor, maker, and collaborator whose left brain and right brain are equally developed and genuinely rare in the same person.

80+ Museums & galleries visited	20 Years as a practicing artist	500+ Original works in collection	4 Continents of research & sourcing
---	---	---	---

ART & CURATION

Art Acquisition & Advisory

I acquire art on behalf of private collectors, interior designers, and hospitality clients — art fairs, galleries, emerging artists, secondary market.

One-time acquisitions and ongoing advisory. Brief + budget, then I go to work.

Gallery Talks, Art Walks & Museum Tours

Bespoke talks for openings, guided museum tours, and art walks tailored to your audience, space, and collection.

Available in Los Angeles and for travel. Booked 4–6 weeks out.

Point of View

Strong opinions on AI-generated art, slow fashion, classical versus contemporary practice, and the role of beauty in a fracturing world.

Essays and perspectives at sunnieanand.com/pov

IDEAS & EXHIBITIONS

Seeking gallery and institutional partners. Artists whose work belongs here are encouraged to reach out.

Return of Gaia

What comes after extraction? Not collapse — return. Works that imagine the earth as active, sovereign force reclaiming her place. Painting, sculpture, textile, land-based installation.

Beyond Wear

Textile works that exist purely as art objects — no body implied, no function intended. Form, memory, labor, politics, and the intimacy of materials.

The Creator Caste

Works by South Asian women of the diaspora who have claimed creative selfhood. Painting, textile, mixed media, photography — united by one insistence: claiming the Self is a radical act.

Sunnie Salons

An invitation-only intimate evening in Los Angeles. 25 guests. 1–3 featured artists sharing their process, their current work, or an upcoming show — followed by a moderated conversation. Salons are announced to the waitlist first.

Get on the list: sunnieanand.com/contact.html#salons

SLOW FASHION

Fashion Industry: Production Logistics & Operations

Former global corporate operator for fashion houses — systems, vendors, operations.

Project-based or in-house. We start with a conversation and decide on scope together.

Sustainable Fashion: Material Sourcing & Procurement

A strong eye for fabric — deadstock, secondhand, vintage, found materials. Backed by deep corporate experience designing complex global sourcing infrastructure at scale.

Project-based or in-house. We start with a conversation about your sourcing needs.

Working Artist

20 years experience in abstract expressionist pieces working in traditional media of acrylic, watercolor, ink, collage, and oil pastel — including large-scale installation. Works held in private collections in San Francisco, Atlanta, New York, Mumbai, and Washington DC.

Full body of work and commission inquiries: sunnieanand.com/works

Let's make something beautiful.

HELLO@SUNNIEANAND.COM

SUNNIEANAND.COM

LOS ANGELES, CA